ILSLEY SEES RIOT DAMAGE IN N.S.

Yo, Ho! Ho! and Bottles of Beer—Scenes of Rioting in Halifax

A glimpse of sailors who joined in the first outbreaks. They were carrying away cases of beer taken from a brewery which was broken into.

The people above, starting out as V-E merry-makers, participated in increasingly exciting incidents until they stormed a liquor store, left, and stripped it of beverages.

Goering, Himmler, Hess Listed As War Criminals; Henlein Takes Own Life

LONDON (CP)—Rudolf Hess, Heinrich Himmler and Hermann Goering all have been listed by the United Nations as war criminals and there is strong possibility that Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz will also have to face trial for his life.

The information about the ranking luminaries of the fallen Nazi hierarchy and Hitler's successor in the surrendered Reich came today from a highly reliable source.

This informant estimated that between 4,000,000 and 6,000,000 Germans might be forced to atone for their nation's atrocities if the proposed plan of pool punishment is adopted by the victorious powers.

Hess and Goering both are prisoners and both were Hitler deputies. Himmler, the hangman head of the Gestapo, is a fugitive. The machinery for determining the guilt or innocence of the top-ranking Nazis awaits creation by Britain, the United States, Russia, and France.

The issue was referred to their Foreign Secretaries for working out details.

These facts were learned, however: 1. Trials under present plans will be public. 2. Neutral countries will be denied a place on the bench. 3. Strong sentiment exists for the trial of industrialists who used slave labor, as well as those who formulated the policies which made such conscription of foreigners possible.

Henlein Prepared For His Last Act

WITH THE U.S. 3RD ARMY (Reuter)—Konrad Henlein, former gauleiter of Sudetenland, committed suicide in a prisoner of war cage Thursday morning. He slashed his wrists with a razor blade.

Henlein was taken into custody Wednesday by the 3rd Army, with Karl Frank, Nazi governor of the Bohemia-Moravia "protectorate."

Henlein was the Sudeten Germanizer who paved the way for Hitler's march into Czechoslovakia in 1938.

The former gauleiter apparently had been prepared to commit suicide if captured. His wrists had been slashed with a razor blade he had concealed beneath a strip of adhesive tape attached to his cigarette case.

By taking his own life Henlein escaped execution by the Czechoslovak government. He had been sentenced to death in absentia by a Czechoslovak court in 1938.

Had Wide Authority In Czechoslovakia

The husky Henlein, after the Munich settlement through which Hitler won control of 3,000,000 Sudetens, exercised wide authority under the Nazis in Czechoslovakia.

As soon as the German army had moved in, Hitler named Henlein statthalter, or governor, and gauleiter, or district party leader, and topped these honors with the more weighty job of Reichskommissioner for integration of the Sudetenland into the Reich.

The 47-year-old Henlein, a native of Reichenau, joined the Austrian army as a volunteer before he was 18, to fight the Italians in the First Great War. He returned to his birthplace in 1919, and went into the business of teaching sports.

He plunged into Nazi politics in the fall of 1933, six months after Hitler had become Chancellor.

Many stores in addition to the provincial liquor stores were looted. Above looters are shown in a wrecked clothing store. Women joined men in walking off with armloads of merchandise.

Superforts Pound Seaplane Plant On Honshu; Japan's Main Island

MANILA (CP)—Australian and Dutch troops have reached the edge of the Djoetata oil field, second largest on oil-rich Tarakan Island, against slight opposition. Strong Japanese positions were reported in depth, however, between captured Aji Hill and another eminence named Hill 105.

All above-ground oil installations at Djoetata had been destroyed. A fleet of 100 to 150 Superfortresses, in a quick follow-up to Thursday's mighty 400-plane smash, raided the big Kawanishi seaplane plant on Japan's main island, Honshu, today, bombing visually in good weather.

A smaller force attacked the Oita and Saka airfields on Kyushu, southernmost island in the mainland chain, in the 20th Tactical raid on fields from which the enemy has been making suicide plane attacks against the U.S. forces at Okinawa.

The Kawanishi plant, one of the principal seaplane factories in Japan, is at Fukae, between Kobe and Osaka on south-central Honshu.

It was hit less than 24 hours after 400 or more B-29s had pounded the Tokuyama and Otake oil storage areas in the greatest attack yet launched against Japan itself. Not a plane was lost Thursday. Japanese opposition, both by fighter planes and flak, was weak.

A determined U.S. offensive against Naha, Okinawa's capital city, was shaping up today after the 6th Marine Division had bridged the Asa River estuary despite efforts of two Japanese human bombs to blow up the span.

Acting Premier, Naval Chieftain Arrive On Scene

HALIFAX (CP)—Acting Prime Minister J. L. Ilesley viewed riot damage in Halifax today as Mayor Alan Butler appealed to civilians and servicemen for "tolerance on both sides" in their attitude towards V-E Day riots and looting that caused damage possibly running as high as $5,000,000.

Vice-Admiral George C. Jones, chief of the naval staff, arrived here today to assume temporary command of all naval personnel in this area.

A naval headquarters press release from Ottawa said Admiral Jones had been authorized by the government to call on officers and personnel of the Army and the Air Force as well as the Navy to assist him "in any way that may be deemed necessary or advisable."

The announcement quoted Navy Minister Abbott as saying "appropriate" service inquiries are being started immediately by the navy, army and air force to "investigate the extent and nature of breaches of discipline by service personnel in the Halifax area during the recent disorders."

Meanwhile, the Cape Breton community of New Waterford became the latest of a number of Nova Scotia cities and towns to be the scene of victory rioting Thursday night, as a mob of some 300 teen-aged youths and girls smashed and looted stores and injured two police officers.

2 Policemen Hurt By Flying Stones

The officers were injured by flying stones, as Mayor W. J. Inchey of New Waterford appealed for aid to Attorney-General J. H. MacQuarrie at Halifax, and to Lt.-Col. W. H. Dobbie, officer commanding military forces in Cape Breton.

The liquor store at New Waterford, looted the night before, again was attacked Thursday night, but there was little liquor left for the would-be looters. Post office windows were smashed also, but no attempt was made to enter the building.

In Sydney and in Liverpool, early curfews were enforced to prevent further outbreaks in those centres.

Mr. Ilesley arrived in Halifax early today, then went on to his home at Kentville, N.S. He returned during the day for a further study of the matter of responsibility and reparations for damages done the city's entire business section in the orgy of drinking, rioting and destruction Monday and Tuesday nights.

Conferring with him were Mayor Butler, A. T. O'Leary, president of the Board of Trade, and E. L. Cousins, wartime administrator for Canadian Atlantic ports, who has been appointed special investigator by the federal government. The Board of Trade has already asked for a judicial committee appointed by the Ottawa government "to fix responsibility for the rioting."

Asks Toleration By Both Sides

Mayor Butler appealed for toleration on both sides, in a radio address Thursday night directed to residents of Halifax on the one hand, the service personnel, largely navy and merchant navy, on the other.

"Many hearts are hardened these days," he said, but added that "a most difficult situation would be created if they in any way saw fit to assume a position of refusing to have the ordinary associations of business or society with anyone." He asked residents to avoid any action which might be interpreted as "depriving the ordinary rights that all peace-abiding persons, whether in or out of uniform, are entitled to enjoy."

The mayor said Rear-Admiral L. W. Murray, Commander in Chief, Canadian Northwest Atlantic, concurred fully in his remarks. Previously Mayor Butler had charged that the navy had not been "in a position to control their own personnel" and Admiral Murray had claimed civilians were at the bottom of the rioting.

Eden Statement Clears Up Issue On Powers' Vote

By HARRY P. HODGES

Editor of the Times

SAN FRANCISCO—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's completely "on the record" press conference yesterday cleared the air on one phase of the much-disputed voting controversy. He announced that the major powers had agreed on a compromise included in a proposed amendment to Paragraph Four of Chapter Eight A of the Dumbarton Oaks proposals dealing with the "pacification of disputes" which stipulates that if parties to a dispute fail to settle it by negotiation, or other peaceful means, they "should obligate themselves to refer it to the Security Council."

The effect of the new draft is that the Security Council will now, under this section, possess the power actually to recommend the terms of settlement for any particular dispute. Therefore, since, under the Yalta voting formula, the parties to a dispute cannot vote under this section, it follows that a great power party to a dispute will not be able to block any such recommendation being made.

It is, of course, true that this change does not alter the position that a great power which is not a party to a dispute may, if it so desires, prevent the Security Council from taking any action under this section, including the making of recommendations; but this point does not affect the advance which has recently been made in regard to the real increase in power which has now been given to the Security Council.

A Canadian, incidentally, asked Mr. Eden what he thought of the general approach of the nations of the British Commonwealth to the various controversial matters with which the conference had been dealing. Since several of the overseas dominions have voted in opposition to Britain, the foreign secretary replied that their action had left him "wildly delighted" because now "nobody can say the British Empire has six votes"—an answer which emphasized the unhesitating and candid nature of his replies. (See Page 2 for fuller press conference coverage)

"F-for-Freddy", 2 Famous Fliers End Trail of Glory At Calgary

CALGARY (CP)—A routine "shooting up" job on an air-drome control tower ended in a flaming, 400-mile-an-hour death dive Thursday for famed "F-for-Freddy" and its distinguished two-man crew.

Unscathed through 211 operational flights over all the target towns of Germany, the British Mosquito plane LR503 crumpled after a 300-yard skid within sight of more than 200 airmen at No. 7 Release Centre, killing Flt. Lt. Maurice Briggs, D.S.O.,

D.F.C., D.F.M., and F.O. Johnny Baker, D.F.C. and Bar.

(The famous aircraft and its widely-known crew were scheduled to arrive at Patricia Bay today, circle over Victoria for 15 minutes and then go up-island to stop briefly at Cassidy and Comox airports. Returning, it was due to salute Ladysmith, first B.C. unit to attain its objective in the 8th Victory Loan.)

Less than half an hour before the crash at Calgary's municipal airport, Briggs said to Capt. Edward Jack of the R.A.F. Transport Command: "Stay on the ground this afternoon, Jack. You're pretty tired."

Capt. Jack, flight engineer in charge of maintenance during "F-for-Freddy's" tour of Canadian cities in support of the 8th Victory Loan, was standing beside the control tower when the plane dipped out of a long dive, struck an aerial mast with its starboard wing and plunged to the ground 50 yards from the last barracks block.

Flames plumed in the wake of the craft, which Briggs and Baker had flown from Scotland to Canada after their original plane—a Mosquito named "D. Dog"—"started to act up" 600 miles across the Atlantic.

The two R.A.F. men completed their 105th operation over enemy territory together last Christmas. Briggs, who celebrated his 25th birthday last Sunday, made his first operational flight in an ancient Whitley bomber six days after war was declared. After 40 trips as air gunner he remustered as pilot and made 105 operations in Mosquitoes.

He once had been quartered less than 100 yards from the scene of the crash. Baker, 24 last Friday, had 115 operations. A native of Malaya, his parents now live in California.

Eyewitnesses to the crash told how "F-for-Freddy's" rubber dinghy dropped out, inflated automatically and landed on the release centre—neatly and naturally as though something had gone wrong over the North Sea.

PLANNED STAY HERE
REGINA (CP)—"We're going to get a week's leave when we get to Vancouver, and we're going to spend all of it fishing," said Flt. Lt. Maurice Briggs and F.O. John Baker, when they were in Regina with their famous Mosquito bomber "F-for-Freddy" Wednesday.

They were within a few hours of Vancouver and the fishing trip Thursday afternoon when the plane crashed at Calgary's airport and both were killed.

Neither of them had ever been to the Canadian west coast before, and they had heard the fishing was wonderful there. After their week of fishing they expected to be sent to the United States, where they would have continued to show off "F-for-Freddy."

Eden Again Scores At Press Conference

By HARRY P. HODGES
Editor of The Times

SAN FRANCISCO—When this correspondent returns to Victoria early next week he will have taken a solemn vow—that in the coming months he will avoid press conferences like the plague. Do not misinterpret this somewhat rash statement. Every one of the literally dozens of such gatherings he has attended here has been unique—unique not only because of the world-renowned figures who have dominated them, but also because they have constituted an integral part of history in the making.

Nor would the writer have missed one of them. Each was different in its specific relation to the business which has brought the representatives of nearly 50 nations together. Each was different because, in most instances it was intended to, and did, reflect an individual national view designed to fit the new concept of international collaboration and co-operation in the establishment of a world-wide organization to guarantee permanent peace based on justice for all. But it is no easy task to sort out one's impressions at the typewriter at the end of a long day.

Several of these meetings between potentates and press have been alluded to in these dispatches. But perhaps the last of the series to which this newsman will refer is that given by Mr. Anthony Eden yesterday in the Room of the Dons in the Mark Hopkins Hotel—the home of the British delegation to Uncle

EDEN STILL FRESH

Showing no signs of the strain to which the conference proper must have subjected him, Britain's Foreign Secretary faced the 600 odd press and radio correspondents from all over the globe, plus the barrage of ubiquitous photographers, with a sangfroid and imperturbable good humor which evoked admiring comment among his audience. While waiting for the "blinding bulb artists" to cease fire, the photogenic chairman of the British delegation took a drink of water and toasting the cameramen, observed:

"This is not a cocktail, gentlemen."

The inevitable 64 questions concerning India, Palestine, Korea and the Polish controversy were parried with a ready frankness, a straight-from-the-shoulder candor, which made an evident hit with the assembled newspaper fraternity.

Mr. Eden prefaced his formal statement on the proposed British amendments and other suggested revisions of the Dumbarton Oaks proposals with an enlightening summary of what Britain has suffered in the last few months—a recital which must have impressed those who may only dimly remember the days when the British family stood alone against the aggressor poised menacingly on the continental European shoreline from the North Cape to the Bay of Biscay.

And the Foreign Secretary frankly admitted that he and his colleagues "wanted to be in London at this time because of what our capital city has gone through." None present failed to understand this feeling.

PROLONGED APPLAUSE

After 45 minutes of exchange, Mr. Eden concluded on an optimistic note as to the outcome of the conference, to which he added a very generous tribute to the hard-working secretariat, describing its personnel as possessing the greatest linguistic ability of any such parley he had ever attended. He appraised their contribution as one of inestimable value. And when he finally took his leave it was to the accompaniment of prolonged applause and a chorus of, "well, this is certainly the best press conference so far" . . . a conspicuous compliment from such a critical, cosmopolitan audience. It recalled to this writer's mind the phrase Mr. Churchill used to describe Mr. Eden's abilities when he gave his report to the House of Commons on Yalta . . . his constant self-preparation for the tasks which have fallen on him, his unequalled experience as a minister at the Foreign Office, his knowledge of foreign affairs and their past history, his experience of conferences of all kinds, his breadth of view, his powers of exposition, his moral courage, have gained for him a position second to none among the foreign secretaries of the grand alliance.

While it has been the practice of dictators to name their successors—none of whom has lived to enjoy the fruits of office—the foregoing bids to become prophetic. For Mr. Eden will leave San Francisco for his native land with a vastly enhanced reputation in those fields of public service in which he has so distinguished himself at home and abroad.

Veteran Missing Off Gasboat Loma

John Lelech, missing owner of the gasboat Loma which was found abandoned and awash 3 miles off Campbell River, Thursday, is believed to have been the only man aboard the craft when it got into difficulties in rough weather.

Mrs. Lelech, 2548 Carolina Street, Vancouver, told B.C. police her husband left Vancouver last Sunday and was alone on the boat. She said the boat was purchased privately, and not through the rehabilitation agency.

Police said papers found aboard the boat showed Lelech to be a veteran of this war and indicated that the boat may have carried a crew of two.

First word of the tragedy came from the lightkeeper on Cape Mudge Island, who noticed the boat drifting about 100 yards offshore and saw a man on deck who was apparently attempting to get an anchor overboard, the boat evidently being in difficulties.

When police arrived with a packer to take the craft in tow, no one was aboard.

"What is the formula for water?" asked the science master. "H I J K L M N O," spelled out one scholar.

"What on earth are you talking about?"

"Well, sir, you said only yesterday that it was H to O."

Governor-General Arrives For 4-Day Victoria Visit

His Excellency, the Earl of Athlone, Governor-General of Canada, steps off his special plane at Patricia Bay air port. Her Royal Highness Princess Alice is seen in the aircraft doorway. A member of the plane's crew stands by.

Stepping off a special plane at Patricia Bay air port Thursday afternoon, the Earl of Athlone, Governor-General of Canada, and Her Royal Highness Princess Alice were greeted by Hon. Gordon McG. Sloan, chief justice and administrator of British Columbia in the absence of Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward, Mrs. Sloan, Air Vice-Marshal F. V. Heakes, C.B., and his honorary aide-de-camp, Capt. P. Barry German, N.O.I.C., Esquimalt.

Also present at the arrival of the plane from Vancouver were Wing Cmdr. H. J. McNeer, acting officer commanding Patricia Bay air station, and Lt. Cmdr. Hew Patterson, aide-de-camp to the Lieutenant-Governor.

The Governor-General and Her Royal Highness were immediately motored with a naval motorcycle escort to Government House, where they were welcomed by Mrs. Woodward in the absence of the Lieutenant-Governor, who is visiting British Columbia fighting forces in Europe.

Before boarding the plane at Vancouver, the Governor-General had received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws—the highest honor conferred by the University of B.C.—and had set a precedent at the university's colorful graduating ceremonies by presenting his own award, the Governor-General's medal, to Charles D. Maunsell of Victoria, top-ranking student of the 1945 graduating class.

VISIT PATRICIA BAY

Today Her Royal Highness visited Patricia Bay, inspecting the R.C.A.F. (W.D.) establishment and this afternoon she visited at the Lake Hill Women's Institute. The Governor-General this afternoon visited the Royal Canadian Naval Hospital at H.M.C.S. Naden.

A formal dinner will be tendered His Excellency and Her

Royal Highness at Government House tonight.

Saturday Her Royal Highness will visit Morsey House and Morsey II, Esquimalt, and the W.R.C.N.S. station at Gordon Head, while His Excellency will visit Royal Roads, and the Gordon Head Army camp, before officiating at an investiture at Government House Saturday afternoon.

Saturday night the Governor-General and Princess Alice will be guests of Capt. and Mrs. German at a dinner at Dockyard House.

HAL BOYLE, A.P. man, writing from Saxony, says legions of boys and girls from 10 to 20, fed in the formative years on Hitler's blood and muscle doctrine of race superiority are romantically and fanatically devoted to their leader. He says they are hard and cruel and there is more hate in the eyes of these knee-pant legions than in all the army's millions of trained soldiers. Americans hate to shoot and kill them, but because of their ignorance in knowing when their case is hopeless, these boys with rifles are more of a menace than trained soldiers.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The Allies have had a great stroke of luck in getting their hands on Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering, because the fat and outwardly amiable former Deputy Fuehrer is one of the most dangerous Nazis left alive — and it's good to hear from responsible sources in London that he soon will be tried as a war criminal.

We safely can award Goering second place on the list of men to be feared. He is out-ranked only by Franz von Papen, the unmatched Prussian plotter of two world conflicts, whom the Allies also have in custody along with a large and growing log of Axis war-mongers.

There's a third Hitlerite whom the world wants even more than Goering and Von Papen — not because of his power as a leader but because of his barbarities. That is Himmler, the hangman who, as head of the terrible Gestapo, has carried out massacres and tortures which have few parallels in history.

Himmler is in hiding, but the globe isn't big enough to conceal him from justice.

Goering is dangerous, not in the gory sense that Himmler is, but because he is possessed of great leadership and has shown unusual organizing ability. That, of course, is why Hitler picked him to be crown prince, and turned against his deputy only recently when — according to Goering — the latter wanted to take over the dictator's job.

A lot of folk have come to look on the strutting Reichsmarshal as an opera bouffe character, but that's underestimating him badly. We shouldn't let his eccentricities and penchant for personal adornment fool us, nor yet that boyish grin which the people of Germany have found so captivating.

Goering's infectious grin and his glib tongue won't save him in the Allied high court. Indeed one wonders whether there's any one left who still believes enough in Hitlerism to step forward as a witness in its defence.

Tax On Electric Goods, Radios, Materials for Building, Eased

OTTAWA (CP)—With a number of special war taxes cut or abolished, Canada today had, in what amounted to a "baby budget," first large-scale revision of government policy to meet the first stage in conversion from war to a peace economy.

The program, outlined Thursday night on behalf of Finance Minister Isley, Acting Prime Minister, announced elimination of the 8 per cent sales tax on building materials, the 10 per cent war exchange tax on imported manufacturing and producers' machinery and equipment and building materials, and the 25 per cent excise tax on household electric and gas appliances.

The 25 per cent excise tax on radios, phonographs and cameras is cut to 10 per cent, and an excise tax ranging from 25 to 80 per cent on passenger automobiles is changed to a flat 10 per cent tax.

The tax changes and eliminations are effective immediately.

Mr. Isley sketched the basis on which controls are to be relaxed, and said restrictions on the manufacture of a number of household goods would be removed almost immediately. Rationing of automobile inner tubes would be lifted shortly.

It also was proposed to make an early announcement on easing the Foreign Exchange Control Board regulations which now limit pleasure travel by Canadians in the United States.

Thursday night's statement of government policy is due to be followed Monday by a Prices Board statement outlining in detail the controls which are to be lifted immediately. It is expected these will be mainly orders which halted the manufacture of a number of metal consumer goods, particularly household articles.

Mr. Isley placed emphasis on the need of preventing a post-war inflation, and expressed the government's determination to hold the line on its stabilization program.

"Sharply rising prices in the demobilization and reconversion period would undoubtedly be followed by deflation, and serious unemployment afterwards," he said.

Loan Stands at $1,146,398,850 With 2 Days of Campaign To Go

OTTAWA (CP)—Eighth Victory Loan purchases totaled $94,127,000 Thursday, but the individual sales still are lagging as a result of the victory celebrations this week, national headquarters announced today.

While the Thursday total compared with $88,084,150 for the corresponding day of the last loan, individual sales were not up to expectation, totaling only $37,932,300, against $42,890,350 at the same stage of the seventh campaign.

The cumulative total for the first 16 days of this loan is $1,146,398,850, compared with $1,207,660,650 at the same point six months ago, while the number of applications is lagging by about 240,000.

Officials said that if the minimum over-all objective of $1,350,000,000 is to be reached by Saturday night, Friday's and Saturday's sales will have to average slightly more than $100,000,000.

Nova Scotia was the first province to achieve all its objectives in this loan, announcing success Thursday. In the last loan it shared this honor with British Columbia and Saskatchewan.

British Columbia and Prince Edward Island also announced themselves over the top when Thursday's sales had been tabulated. B.C.-Yukon public and armed forces' investments total

Warehouse, Homes Burn in Seattle

SEATTLE (AP)—A spectacular three-alarm fire which completely destroyed the four-story Goodwill Industries store and warehouse building, enveloped three nearby houses in flames and burned into the Arrow Iron Works, caused losses estimated at $115,000 in Seattle's south side industrial section Thursday night.

Gordon Scott, Goodwill Industries president, said his company's loss was approximately $100,000, all of which was insured. Fire Chief William Fitzgerald said the three houses burned were valued at less than $10,000, while damage to the iron works was given at $4,500.

Fourteen companies, about one-third of the city's fire equipment, were called to combat the blaze, which sent sparks high into the sky. Some sparks fell smouldering three and four blocks away, it was reported.

Hundreds of persons watched from surrounding hills as the wooden warehouse, filled with baled paper, clothing, furniture and other materials burned.

Goering Classifies Hitler, Ribbentrop Ignorant, Scoundrel

By A. I. GOLDBERG

KITZBUSHEL, Austria (AP)—Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering Thursday told Maj. Gen. John E. Dahlquist, commanding the U.S. 36th Division, that Adolf Hitler was narrow and ignorant, that former Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop was a scoundrel and that Rudolf Hess was eccentric, but had tremendous energy.

After these assertions, Goering fell with gusto upon a luncheon plate of chicken, potatoes and peas, Dahlquist said.

Goering, who had surrendered Tuesday night, said nothing about Heinrich Himmler.

He said Hitler had never been outside of Germany except for trips to Italy, and therefore did not know people of other countries the way Goering knew them.

"Ribbentrop was a scoundrel. Four months before the war started I told him that Winston Churchill said to someone in our government in London, 'Why do you always send Ribbentrop to deal with me? Why don't you send a good fellow like Goering?' Rudolf Hess was eccentric but was undoubtedly a man of tremendous energy." (Mr. Churchill was not in the government before the war started).

Dahlquist asked Goering if he had ever read Sir Neville Henderson's book on his Berlin mission. "I only read what he said about me," Goering replied.

WELCOME BACK

BACK TO THE POLITICAL ARENA IN which he rendered such valuable service from 1933 to 1937 as a Liberal member for Victoria, comes Byron I. (Boss) Johnson, through his sweeping victory in New Westminster's provincial by-election yesterday. The results of the poll, which gave him more than double the number of votes secured by his closest challenger, constitute a personal triumph for the Liberal-Conservative Coalition candidate and a notable achievement for the combined forces which have given the province such an able administration since the last provincial general election.

Those who have been prone to see as straws in the wind the results of two previous by-elections will no doubt draw the significance it deserves from the decision of the progressive Royal City voters. As Premier John Hart said, the result is "both a tribute and endorsement of the policies of the Coalition government. The decision of the electorate in this by-election gives the Coalition government great encouragement to carry on with those policies laid down by us and destined for the welfare of the people."

In view of the imminence of the federal general election, yesterday's count in New Westminster will no doubt be interpreted as an important augury.

Mr. Johnson's election as the successor of the late Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands at the time of his death, seems particularly appropriate. The former Victorian, who has lived in New Westminster for the last 12 years and who has given to that city energetic service similar to that which he gave the capital, retains for the mainland centre its strong ties with athletics. Like his predecessor, Mr. Johnson was a great lacrosse player and staunch supporter of rugged, clean sport. Like the late Mr. Wells Gray, he is soundly grounded in the knowledge of his west coast people. One of them by birth, he is thoroughly familiar with their needs. His exceptional business success and technical abilities will serve not only his constituents but all citizens of the province well. A familiar of so many of those men who have made preparations for the postwar development of British Columbia, he brings added strength to a Legislature which will receive him back with great satisfaction.

From every point of view, the people of New Westminster are to be congratulated on their choice. And the people of Victoria will join with them in drawing a measure of pride from the result.

TRUE TO THE LAST

THE FAMOUS R.A.F. MOSQUITO fighter-bomber "F for Freddie," which was touring Canada in aid of the Victory Loan campaign, made its last dive at Calgary yesterday and crashed, killing both members of its crew. After coming safely through no less than 211 operational flights, it met destiny in a peaceful operation designed to advertise the necessity of maintaining the productive capacity of Canada to complete the job of winning the war to win the peace.

The members of the crew, Flt. Lt. Maurice Briggs, D.S.O., D.F.C., D.F.M., and FO. John Baker, D.F.C. and bar, were veterans of the R.A.F. Their records were marked by the decorations they wore. They were representative of the highly different parts of the Empire in that FO. Baker was a native of Malaya. Both gave their lives to serve the fight for humanity's freedom. They died in a peaceful operation but none the less a vital one to remind Canada of the necessity to "carry on." They were true to the watchwords of unity and security.

FOR GREATER UNDERSTANDING

FOR SOME CONSIDERABLE TIME THE immediate necessity of feeding starving peoples, of seeking to restore order from chaos, and reconciling opposing elements in liberated countries will preoccupy the leaders of the major nations who have brought freedom to the oppressed. In the performance of those tasks, experts agree, many frictions will be created, even though unanimity of purpose in preservation of the future peace will be maintained.

There may be racial animosities aroused by differing views and even an inclination to retreat to a narrow nationalism which can produce only trouble in the future. Such recession will require effective checks. And one of the most promising methods of overcoming it may be found in a new age of travel that looms on the horizon.

Probably never before has the opportunity to visit foreign countries been as great as it will be when the more immediate reconstruction work is completed. Already shipping companies are laying plans for the restoration of their fleets. Air lines promise to bring the most remote regions within a day's journey. The accumulated savings of a western world, which has been denied spending channels during the war, will provide the means to purchase transportation.

The prospect is one not only to gladden the heart of the travel-minded, but one to encourage hope for a greater international understanding through direct acquaintance with the peoples of distant lands. The younger brothers and sisters of servicemen will have a healthy desire to see the ways and customs of those allies who were brothers in arms of their seniors.

Before this war Canadians and Americans crossed in streams to Europe. Quite true, many of their Cook's tours did not afford much opportunity to penetrate below the superficial impressions they gained. But the travelers did, nevertheless, gain something.

An intensification of the same trend, even if it required a system of state-subsidized traveling scholarships, could be of impressive value in developing the young people of this country. If those who could travel cheaply and rough it, when necessary, were encouraged to see for themselves the peoples of the United Nations in their own homes, much of the dangers of misunderstanding might be materially reduced and the spirit of future good will among men might be greatly increased.

AN ANCIENT MODEL

FOR PURPOSES OF MILITARY OCCUPATION Germany has been divided roughly into four regions; east of the Elbe under Russia; west of the Elbe and north of a line drawn, probably, from Cologne to Leipzig under the British; south of that line under the United States; and west of the Rhine under France. The four occupying powers are to be federated in Berlin for purposes of formulating the general policy to be followed in policing the German people, who will not be allowed even a police force and will be completely disarmed until they have learned manners.

It seems evident that the purely military occupation must be supported by an economic administration, integrated with that of the Germans themselves, for the restoration of the entire economy of Europe, which they destroyed for their own objective of domination.

The military occupation would seem naturally to rest upon a civil administration by the Germans of the occupied areas, and it is of interest to speculate on the influence of the military occupants on the civil life of Germany. Each of the occupants have differing ideas regarding the forms of administration based on their experience and traditions.

The Russians apparently intend to remove large sections of the German population east of the Oder, not only to provide the Poles with an exchange of territory in compensation for White Russia, but to provide labor for reconstruction in the Ukraine and possibly for the colonization of Siberia. The French will be particularly concerned with integrating the Ruhr, west of the Rhine with their industrial economy. But neither the British nor the Americans are concerned with such problems. Their interest lies in the general economy of Europe freed from the constant and all pervading fear of German domination.

The history of Germany itself provides a possible means of a solution to this problem of civil administration. The German states were federated by Bismarck after the Franco-Prussian War. But 600 years before the states themselves became settled geographically, the Hanseatic League of Free Ports had brought about a unity of autonomous but federated trading centres established on the exchange of goods by water transport. The Merchant Adventurers of England based their organization in the days of Elizabeth on the policy followed by the Hanseatic League. The League was also established in France.

Thus Germany arose originally from trade. The Hanseatic League did not concern itself with politics or nationalities. It provided itself with a police force by paying for it. There were few national armies in its day but large companies of so-called "gentlemen adventurers" whose swords or ships were always at the service of the longest purse. The almanac of Gotha is full of their names.

With the Americans on the Danube and the Rhine and the British at the mouths of the rivers, where the Hanseatic League originated; with trade as the principal objective in world reconstruction, it seems that an old model might well serve as an example of how to reconstruct Germany as a civilized community.

FAREWELL LOUISA

A GREAT SADNESS MUST SEIZE VICTORIANS as they learn the fire barge acquired from North Vancouver will no longer be called "Louisa." It has been rechristened the "V.F.D. Fire Barge." It has ceased to be a lady, an object to be cajoled, flattered. It has ceased to claim the adulation of an attendant who might polish a little brass aboard it here, dab on a little paint there. It is no longer the mistress of the department. No longer may the boys, sitting on their cots in dreamy contemplation, hum softly and tenderly the strains of "I Love Louisa." Now it is just a thing: the V.F.D. Fire Barge. Where is the spirit of poetry?

PRACTICAL EDUCATION

A DOUBLE PURPOSE IS SERVED BY the order announced by Hon. H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education, releasing suitable students from grades 8 to 11 on June 1 to assist in farm labor. All such young people must, of course, show adequate standards in their academic work to secure their release. That provision avoids any retardation which might result from missing a month's lessons.

Apart from helping the farmers at a time when they certainly need that aid, the arrangement permits the students to gain some work experience which they might otherwise lack. By it they attain some of the practical education which a classroom cannot provide. And as they accumulate experience, they will also make money.

Walter Lippmann

SAN FRANCISCO.

REPORT ON SAN FRANCISCO

THERE HAVE BEEN two international conferences going on here at the same time. The big one, for which the United Nations have come to San Francisco, is making remarkable progress towards the formation of a world organization. There are still several important points which remain to be settled but the will to agree upon them exists and the negotiations are being conducted with high intelligence and ability. The Dumbarton Oaks proposals are shown to be a sound beginning in that it is proving to be quite possible to improve them substantially without altering them fundamentally.

The other conference here, which has been confined to Great Britain, the Soviet Union, and the United States, has been dealing with affairs in eastern Europe, and particularly, though not entirely, with Poland. Though some minor differences have been cleared up in regard to Czechoslovakia and Austria, on Poland there is a stalemate. The Yalta formula, as Roosevelt, Churchill, and Stalin left it, was not a clear and firm contract but rather an agreement to negotiate a contract. The negotiations were left to Messrs. Molotov, Harriman, and Clark Kerr in Moscow, and then they were brought here for Messrs. Stettinius, Eden and Molotov. These negotiations have failed, and the Polish problem now goes back to Stalin, to Churchill and to Roosevelt's successor, President Truman. So the Polish question is still, as it always has been, too difficult to be handled by anyone but the men of the highest authority and responsibility.

THIS EXPLAINS WHAT would otherwise be very puzzling indeed: that while the Polish question has caused a great deal of bad feeling, and has made an atmosphere which would rejoice the heart of Goebbels, if perchance, he is still alive, it really has not interfered at all with the main work of the conference.

M. Molotov has not threatened to break up the conference if the unreconstructed Warsaw government is not invited to San Francisco. On the contrary, he has been remarkably flexible in accepting amendments which have been put forward as improvements or as making the proposed charter politically more acceptable. Messrs. Eden and Stettinius have not threatened to break up the conference unless the Warsaw government was reconstructed promptly.

The truth of the matter is that none of the powers, big or small, can afford to break up the conference. None of them is in a position to go back to its people and say that because it could not prevail on this or that issue, it has dissolved the United Nations in their hour of victory, and has set the stage for another world war. M. Molotov has known that Messrs. Eden and Stettinius knew he could not force them to renounce the Yalta declaration of purpose and recognize the Warsaw government as it is. The English-speaking ministers knew that M. Molotov knew that while they could refuse to recognize the Warsaw government, they could not reach behind the lines of the Red Army and set up a government they liked better.

THEREFORE, THE angry disputes which have been reflected in the press have never been so serious as they sounded. No one has been in a position to back up his angry feelings with angry deeds. All but a few amateur diplomats and trouble-makers have known all along that the Soviets were too strong and that we are too strong to coerce one another. Since none of the three powers could quit, since they cannot dream of engaging in a conflict, diplomatic treatment of the Polish question is bound to go on.

The realities of the situation do prevail. They are that while intercourse between the Soviet Union and America is on the plane of ideology and of etiquette as difficult now as it has always been, the vital interests of the two countries are not in conflict.

There never was a time, beginning with President Monroe, when the United States has not opposed successfully the extension of Russian influence in the Western Hemisphere. There never was a time, and Yalta was no exception, when the United States could exert decisive influence in eastern Europe. The permanent facts of international life are stronger than men's opinions, and they have shaped the course of events here at San Francisco. The Russians could not prevent the American republics from dealing with Argentina in their own way, and British and America cannot compel the Russians to deal with Poland in our way.

NOW THAT WE have met the Soviets in Germany and Austria, we have come as a result of our common victory to a place where a meeting of minds, such as we have never yet achieved, is indispensable. Without it, we shall squander the victory, and we shall have no peace. Unless the four occupying powers can find enough men of high ability, steadiness of character, and great resourcefulness to solve the German problem together, the Germans though defeated will be revenged. They will have succeeded when they are defeated in doing what they hoped in vain to do while they were still fighting—to come between the Soviet Union and the western powers, and in this division to recover their position as the most important power in Europe.

If by what is happening in San Francisco one were to estimate the chances of the Germans succeeding in disrupting the United Nations, one would say—looking at the progress of the world organization—that they will fail. But looking at the stalemate over Poland, one could not say for certain that stubbornness and stupidity might not yet give the Germans good reason to hope that they will have still another chance.

Letters To The Editor

WHICH VETERANS' OPINION?

RE D. Kynnersley's pro-Japanese letter, I might remind her or him that we are still at war with Japan, and if it were not for a democracy and a very free press, such stuff as that contained in her letter would not be printed.

I wonder if D. Kynnersley would give us the names and addresses of these Jap-loving veterans? I, too, know a large number of veterans of the last war and this one and I have yet to meet a single one who is not in favor of sending every Japanese back to Japan! They say a man's memory is short but I happened to be not far from Chemsalmus and Ladysmith when Japanese Canadians there celebrated the fall of Hongkong and Singapore!

Of course, Japanese courtesy was exemplified at Pearl Harbor and when authentic films are obtained showing atrocity conditions prevalent in Hongkong prison camps the Japanese courtesy will truly be revealed. Perhaps D. Kynnersley can explain why almost every organization, order or society in B.C. is snowed under our provincial government—with petitions to have all Japanese repatriated. You can fool some of the people some of the time.

Joseph C. Grew, American ambassador to Japan for 10 years prior to Pearl Harbor, says: "You cannot measure the Japanese mentality with the western yardstick—they are as different from us as any people on this planet, their weapons are modern, their thinking 1,000 years out of date."

CONFUSING TO WHOM?

Your editorial, "End of the Sawdust Caesar," which M. E. Bird considers confusing, is only confusing to the socialistic side of society. Mussolini gained his power as a Socialist, who turned Fascist. The real action of a Socialist, and the fruition of socialism.

He abandoned socialism for individual power, which he used in his ambition to restore the Holy Roman Empire. The idea of socialism was insignificant to him after he had stolen his power. Except for exhausting human society and destroying past civilizations, socialism has nothing to offer for the advancement of human progress. Mussolini's life was ended by the people whom he deceived.

Had the sawdust Caesar aligned himself with the Vatican, instead of opposing it, the peoples of Italy would not have suffered as they did.

When he denounced the church

he did exactly as your editorial claims—he sacrificed Italy on the altar of ambition. And when the church remained silent and used her power in the role of silence, a calamity to her enemies was nigh at hand.

And if we of the Christian side of society, which is blessed with the Divine promise of the new world, yield to the mythical whims of men who promise a new world, then we, too, will be sacrificed on the altar of ambition; we, too, will go the same way as Europe, and civilization as we know it will pass away. And remember when a civilization passes away, millions of young lives pass away with it.

And when the church moves to take action along with men and their promises of a new world, the church loses her Divine purpose, and she dies at the hands of her lover (men). See the Bible. STANLEY WESTERN. 2860 Gorge View Drive.

To help meet this critical overseas need, Canada has earmarked almost her entire output of "Canned Meat" for export.

"Canned Meat" means any meat or meat product packed in sealed glass or metal containers, except poultry meat, soup, pork and beans, pureed infant foods and imported beef concentrates or beef concentrates processed from imported beef extract.

Sale Are Permitted to the Meat Board, Department of Munitions and Supply, Department of Transport, Canadian Red Cross for Prisoner of War Parcels, Ships' Stores or Persons in Remote Areas of Canada.

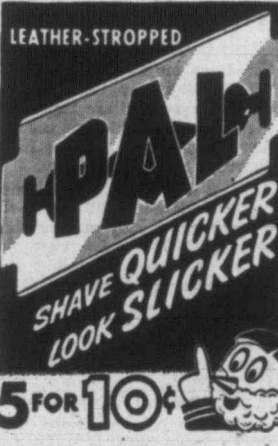

REPORTS OF STOCKS

By May 25, every canner, wholesaler and retailer who had on hand on May 11 any meat covered by the order must report it on a special form which may be obtained at any branch office of the board. After May 11, a record must be kept of sales to priority users.

MEAT CANNERS

On and after May 11, no one may pack in glass any meat covered by the order. On and after May 11, registered canners are forbidden to pack in metal any meat covered by the order, except for sale to the government for export.

Veteran Paratrooper Married at Home

The marriage took place Saturday evening at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Muir, Kenneth Street, of Mildred Nicholson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nicholson, Winnipeg, and Pte. J. T. Muir, paratrooper, recently returned from overseas and convalescing at Shaughnessy Military Hospital.

Given away by Jack Slater, the bride wore a dressmaker suit of blue with rose accessories and carried a bouquet of roses. Miss Betty Muir, a nursing sister at Shaughnessy Hospital, and sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, wearing a beige suit with pink accessories. She carried a bouquet of carnations. Little Miss Jackie McDonald was flower girl and was frocked in pink and blue floral sheer. Bob Muir was groomsmen for his brother.

Rev. James Hood, an old friend of the family, performed the ceremony. Mr. Slater proposed the toast to the bride, who is attached to Army Postal Corps in Ottawa.

After the reception the couple left for a honeymoon on the mainland. Following the groom's discharge from Shaughnessy Hospital, they will make their home in Powell River.

Discuss Ways To Beautify Victoria

"How Would You Beautify Victoria?" was the subject of discussion at the Women's Round Table. No special speakers took part, but all those present were invited to enter into the discussion.

Among the many suggestions brought forward for beautifying the city, it was agreed: that there should be a town-planning commission, composed of representative citizens, municipal councillors and officials; that there should be an overall plan of beautification for Greater Victoria, and that an expert trained in town planning should be employed to guide and direct the work.

Fitting into these general plans were suggestions for traffic control, for a civic centre located in the heart of the city, community centres in every school district and increased park areas, and playgrounds.

Members were agreed on the urgent need for decent housing and the elimination of old, dilapidated dwellings. There should be some form of assisted housing for those in the low-income groups.

The dirty condition of city streets was deplored. Members felt that there should be more waste paper receptacles on the streets, in the parks and near schools.

Considerable discussion centred round Beacon Hill Park and the adjoining beaches. It was felt that the natural beauty of the city was its chief asset, and that this should be preserved in the park.

HOLD ELECTIONS

Mrs. A. C. Ross presided and Miss J. E. M. Bruce acted as discussion leader. Annual reports were presented and an election of officers took place. Executive members for 1944-45 are: Mrs. A. C. Ross, Miss N. M. McKillop, Mrs. C. B. Hill-Tout, Mrs. R. H. McInnes, Mrs. E. E. Harper, Mrs. J. J. Obrien, Mrs. R. J. Morrison, Mrs. G. Brown and Miss E. Howell.

Proceeds of the concert will aid W.A. war work and tickets may be secured from members or at the door.

'I Crossed the Rhine With the Glider Troops'

How does it feel to drop into enemy territory bristling with guns just waiting for you?

"I could hear the whispering whistle of the air that operated the glider's flaps," said Stanley Maxted. "A German machine gun was tearing wicked holes through the fuselage. I went down on one knee... something hot and sickly was dripping over my right eye and off my chin."

"Peter Cattle, my pal, was lying on one elbow with blood making a spider web over his face."

WOMAN'S LOT A HARD ONE

Being a woman is the most difficult, complicated and thankless job ever wished on a human being, and the marvel of it is not that so many make a failure of it, but that anyone ever makes a success of it. Consider only a few of the elementary stunts that just the ordinary, everyday, common or garden variety of woman is expected to be able to pull off merely as a matter of course and without any fuss being made about it:

She is expected to be beautiful though homely. Nature may have turned her out with a snub nose and carrot hair and a saleratus biscuit complexion, but she has to work some sort of a miracle that will turn her into a glamour girl, or else she is just lost in the shuffle. She may have the disposition of an angel and the talents of a genius and be the tower of strength that everyone leans on, but unless she is a good-looking she will go through life being pitied and poor-Maryed.

She has to keep perpetually young and easy on the eyes. Not for her the blessed privilege of being able to quit counting her calories and let out her corset strings, and saying: "Thank Heaven, I'm 60 years old, and I don't care who knows it. All the beauty shops may go heck for all I care!" No, she can't drop out of the race of trying to keep as girlish and slim as her husband's secretary.

MAN OBJECTS

She has to have brains, but she must keep them carefully concealed under her hat. She must be well educated. She must read and keep up with what is going on in the world. But she must keep her intelligence under wraps, for the one thing no man can abide is a woman who knows more than he does.

She must be a financier who can make one dollar do the work of five; a diplomat who strokes her husband's fur the right way and keeps him purring under her hand; an executive who runs all the clubs in her community, yet who is always spoken of as such a sweet little woman.

Unless she desires to be an old maid she has to acquire a husband by stealth. When she falls in love with a man she can't go boldly up to him and ask his hand in marriage, for if she did, she would frighten him so that he would flee from her. She has to contrive romantic situations, and pretend indifference, and work so hard pushing him over the proposing point that it is a wonder she thinks the game is worth the candle.

JACK-OF-ALL-TRADES

If a woman marries, she has to be a Jack-of-all trades to turn out even a fairly good performance as wife and mother. She has to be a doctor, lawyer, parson, schoolteacher, nurse, play director, cook, housemaid, baby-tender, social director, purchasing agent, correspondent, seamstress, and goodness knows what else, besides.

She has to hop out of bed at the first sound of the alarm clock; prepare the breakfast; get the husband off to work and the children off to school; spend the day jumping from one task to another, listening to the baby howl and the older children quarrel and then, when her husband comes home at night, he expects her to look fresh and dainty and all dolled up, and he wonders how she kills time and wishes he could take it easy like she does, with nothing to do but keep house and look after the kids.

Being a woman calls for more physical strength and endurance, more wisdom and patience, more diversity of talents than any other calling in the world, yet Mom somehow manages to get away with it. Thank God for all His mercies.

One first class badge was won by Theresa Rogers. Special prizes were given to Irene Laundry for making the highest marks in first aid, to Yvonne Mouat for winning most badges with highest marks, and to Ruth Coles, who only joined last October and was first to win her second class badge.

Gets Military Medal

Gnr. Chester William Muirhead, 26, R.C.A., has been awarded the M.M. for gallantry in action overseas, according to a release from army headquarters, Ottawa.

Born in Calgary, he enlisted in October, 1941, and proceeded overseas in August, 1941. His wife Edith and two small daughters live in Nanaimo.

The weight of the earth is 5,997,000,000,000,000,000 tons according to calculations of a government scientist.

In 1898 a waterspout 5,104 feet high was seen off New South Wales, Australia.

Due Here Saturday

Spr. S.C. Duffill, who has been overseas two years and twice wounded in northwestern Europe, is expected to arrive in Victoria tomorrow morning. He was met in Vancouver by his wife, Lillian, who lives at 618 Dallas Road with their son and daughter, William, 15 and Doris, 13.

Duffill was wounded the first time last year in Holland by shrapnel in the leg. Early this year he suffered blast effect when a shell exploded nearby.

Rain Plays Havoc With Major Clubs

NEW YORK (AP)—For the second time during this young season, Jupiter Pluvius washed out the entire major league baseball day schedule Thursday with only the Washington-St. Louis night game remaining. With 21 playing days of the season gone by, the 16 big league teams have already been plagued with 45 postponements, 24 in the National League and 21 in the American. The Chicago White Sox, Boston Braves and Cincinnati Reds have suffered the most, each being washed out of eight games.

Postponements mean double-headers later on—and double-headers mean an extra burden on the pitching staffs. Luckily, most clubs have above average hurling crops this season, if past performances are any indication.

Rain is disliked by cats because their fur doesn't contain any oil and so becomes uncomfortable when wet.

Chinese Delegation To Visit Industries In Victoria Monday

During a one-day visit to Victoria Monday, 14 members of the technical committee of the National Resources Commission of China, now touring United States and Canada, will meet with representatives of Victoria industries, visit shipbuilding yards here and hold discussions with government officials.

Before returning to the mainland to visit New Westminster Monday night, the delegation will be entertained at a dinner by the provincial government. The party will look over industries in Vancouver Friday.

The commission was brought to B.C. under the joint auspices of the provincial department of trade and industry, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and China-Canada Inc. Arrangements for the program of the Victoria visit have been completed by Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Trade and Industry, and his staff.

Paint Played Role In Winning War

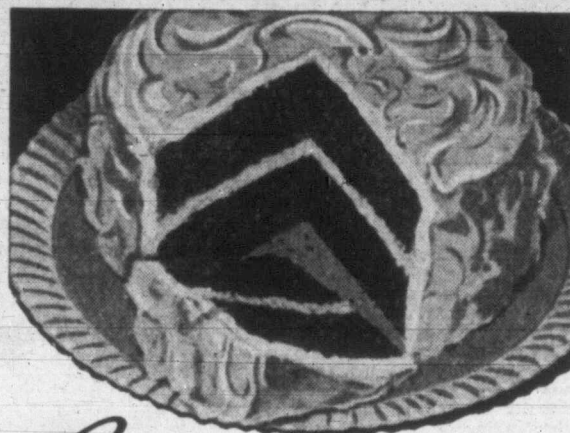

The party will arrive on the morning boat and breakfast aboard before beginning visits and discussions.

Accompanying the party from Vancouver will be R. S. O'Meara, trade commissioner for the B.C. government; Hugh Dalton, secretary of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and J. T. Jackson, secretary of China-Canada Inc.

The national resources commission of China comprises a group of 40 Chinese industrialists and businessmen who have been studying production methods on this continent. One group visited eastern Canadian industries some months ago.

Paint Played Role In Winning War

Tribute to the part Canadian industries, and in particular the paint industry, have played in contribution to victory, was the main topic of V. C. Wansbrough, Montreal, general manager, Canadian Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, in his address at a joint meeting Thursday of Victoria Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs.

Because of its vast field of use, the paint industry is closely aligned with operation and development of other Canadian industries, interlocking in its function, and a mirror of industry itself, stated Mr. Wansbrough.

Paint industries went to war in 1939, and the speaker traced the contribution paint has made, listing protective coats necessary on almost all types of equipment for the services, embracing the vast range of war weapons, and the part paint and its related products have played in the mud of Europe, steam of the jungles, the waters of the oceans, in the sub-stratosphere, and everywhere Allied forces have been found.

"Nothing has been left to chance," the speaker continued, enlarging on the industry's contribution. "Paint in its variety of functions, is made to repel gases and insects, to provide camouflage, and act as protection against a multitude of hazards."

He praised technical laboratories in their production of synthetics. Before the war, the paint industry procured products from every world continent, even the sea itself provided necessary fish oils. When the enemy overran the East and Europe, these world markets were stopped and the research workers swung into action.

Life-line of the industry has been the flax grown by Canada's farmers, which provided essential linseed oil.

He visualized postwar developments, pointing out the fact that people are color-conscious, more so than ever before, and this field, barely explored, shows great opportunity for scientific advancement, and forecasted improved standards in paint and its use brought about by the exigencies of war.

Asked to Stock Up As Fuel Shortage Looms

There will be a definite shortage of fuel, both coal and fuel oil, next winter if householders do not heed the warnings and start getting in their supplies now, Ald. T. W. Hawkins, chairman of the city council fuel committee, warned today.

He pointed out that the shortage of labor to deliver coal, and to cut fuel wood shows no signs of getting any less, and suggested that if householders would get in their stocks of wood and coal little at a time, starting immediately, it might be possible to avert a crisis next fall.

BOOKS

AMERICAN SAGA

"Image of Josephine," by Booth Tarkington (McClelland and Stewart).

POSSESSING BEAUTY, brains and wealth, Josephine Oaklin is quite the most insufferable heroine Booth Tarkington has produced. When her 14-year-old tantrums are compared to "Joan of Arc at the Battle of Bunker Hill" by one of her contemporaries she dismisses his ridicule by quoting Ben Jonson, for too aloof is she from "the dull asses' hoop."

Death of Grandfather Oaklin, a third generation middle west millionaire sees the town the recipient of a Symphony Hall and Temple of Art in perpetuation of the Oaklin dynasty. By this time Josephine has grown up and at the age of 25 is the natural target for the other females of the town.

A remote cousin, Bailey Fount, returns wounded from the wars to reveal to her a few home truths. Josephine finds herself threatened and also infinitely lope, a girl whose sins can be blamed on her late grandfather.

In the mood of the "Magnificent Ambersons," the author interprets the wheels within wheels that turn the machinery of a small North American town.

FOR MYSTERY FANS

"The Saint on Guard," by Leslie Charteris (Mussion Book Co.)

HERE ARE TWO stories in which the Saint turns to tracking down the enemies of a nation at war. In the first, "The Black Market," he is on the trail of a gang that is dealing in stolen iridium. This alloy is needed for war industries and the Saint is mixed up with big business as he tracks down the guilty persons.

In the "Sizzling Saboteur" he combats a Nazi spy gang. He comes close to losing his life before he corners the gang and also a beautiful Russian girl who turns out to be on his side.

Registration High For Summer School

Pre-registration for the Department of Education's Summer School is the highest it has been since war broke out, Dr. C. B. Conway, director of the Summer School said Thursday.

Compared to an enrolment of 355 this time last year there are over 400 students registered for the one-month course, starting July 3. Dr. Conway predicts a possible 900 for 1945 as pre-registration closed today. "But the point is," he said, "can we put 900 students in this town?"

To provide accommodation for the largest student body since 1937, Dr. Conway will advertise next week.

There are many requests from the prairies due to the curtailment of summer school courses there, but no figures are available yet on the number.

Registration includes quite a few veterans this year, after men practically disappeared from the school during the war.

Season's Largest Halibut Trip In

With the largest weight of halibut aboard to be brought into any Pacific port south of Prince Rupert since opening of the halibut fishing season May 1, the Koprino, 60-ton packer of B.C. Packers Ltd., arrived in Victoria this morning with 70,000 pounds of halibut as well as some cod and salmon. B.C. Packers bought the trip.

Bad weather has delayed arrivals of vessels from fish camps up the coast. Thursday a packer pulled into Vancouver with the second largest take of halibut, 50,000 pounds.

The Koprino's haul came from Blaine Myers camp, Bull Harbor, near Cape Scott. The vessel can pack 100 tons of fresh fish and 50 tons iced-down.

After the cod is taken off here, skipper Bill McMillan and his crew of five will proceed with the catch to Seattle, where the halibut will be iced and shipped east.

Seriously Injured

Shortly after the take off, the plane zoomed earthward. Two gunners were killed, the navigator broke a leg, and Chuck was thrown clear. He is hospitalized with a broken back.

A brother, Sgt. Ernie Brenton, R.C.A.F., is stationed at Mount Pleasant, P.E.I.

WITH THE UNDERGROUND

"Age of Thunder," by Frederic Prokosh (Mussion Book Co.)

THIS IS THE story of an American intelligence man sent to investigate Maqui contacts which gives a broad picture of the European underground.

Frederic Prokosh shows the fierce hatred for the oppressors, the lust for revenge and the treachery that abounds everywhere, even among hunted bands of desperadoes. The young soldier parachutes into a Savoy village and has a four-day walk to the Swiss border joining a group of peasants who are to be smuggled over.

After the first night he leaves them and continues with a great negro, whose complex nature reveals kindness and a burning desire for revenge on the Germans. Leaving the negro he continues alone, meeting the people of the underground—French, Polish, Greek, Italian and Spanish. Into his story Prokosh has packed drama, brutality, romance and many an outstanding description of the French country.

HERE WE GO AGAIN!

Our fighters have been getting the "go" signal day after day, often for weeks at a time.

At home we get the "go" signal for our major war effort only twice a year.

This is the eighth time we have been called upon to buy Victory Bonds.

And the need right now is as pressing as ever it was—if all the grim struggle so far is to be crowned with sure victory.

Our fighting men still have a long way to go before peace is established, securely, all over the world.

Even with the end of actual warfare in Europe

some of our forces must stay there to help finish the job of neutralizing Germany.

Others of our men will go to the other side of the world, to join in the conquest of Japan.

But many of our warriors will be coming home soon, and their rehabilitation must be carried out promptly and generously.

It is our turn to show the men of the navy, the army and the air force that we, too, have the victory spirit.

It is our turn to respond to the "go" signal again, right now!

They set out with a quota of $160,000, have subscribed to date $183,000 and aim to reach the $200,000 mark before the loan ends. Temporary Workers Ask School Board For Equal Holidays

A request for equal holidays and sick leave on behalf of temporary employees made by a delegation of the School Board Employees' Association to the Victoria School Board was referred to the buildings and grounds committee by the board at its meeting Thursday night.

The committee was instructed to consult with the association and report back to the board. Association president, L. Clarke, who led the three-man delegation, said that the seven temporary employees concerned have served from two to four years and he felt at this time it would be a good gesture if the board favored them with the same holidays and sick leave as permanent employees.

Mr. Clarke asked that the precedent set for civic employees be followed, but it was pointed out that though temporary civic employees receive the same holidays as the regular staff, sick leave applied only to the permanent employees.

After filing a copy of a resolution passed by the Victoria University Women's Club at their regional conference in connection with the construction of new school buildings, a motion by Trustee F. G. Mulliner, seconded by Trustee C. M. Parrott, was carried to the effect that the board induce the city to appoint two members of council to go with two members of the board to consult with the province with a view to getting financial aid for the construction of a new junior high school and the rebuilding of the old one.

FINANCIAL GRANTS

The office of the minister of reconstruction at Ottawa advised the board that no decision as to the general policy covering grants to provincial or municipal projects can be made until the whole question of financial relations as between the Dominion and the provinces has been considered at a Dominion-provincial conference. Trustee Austin Curtis, board chairman, said he understood there would be no direct financial assistance for building the schools anyway, although some cheap money might be available.

Trustee Isla Tuck and Capt. Wilfrid Ord were appointed by the board to prepare an article

Kidney Acids Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—they awake and cough sleep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and sleeplessness, headache, backache often follow. Victoria College Appointments Made

Victoria School Board confirmed the appointment of three new members to the Victoria College staff Thursday night. The appointments, previously approved by the Department of Education and the University of British Columbia, will necessitate the rearrangement of some lecture assignments.

Roger T. Bishop, M.A., will be assistant professor and head of the English department, succeeding Miss Ruth Humphrey, and will take over some of the classes handled by Dr. J. M. Ewing, principal, this year.

Mr. Bishop obtained his Bachelor of Arts degree with honors from the University of British Columbia, and his Bachelor of Library Science and Master of Arts degrees from the University of Toronto. He comes from the University of Saskatchewan, where he was instructor in English and director of the correspondence department. Previously to that he was an instructor in English at Victoria College for the 1941-42 session, and an assistant in English at the University of British Columbia.

Miss Phyllis Baxendale, B.A., will be an instructor in English and German, relieving Prof. Harry Hickman of some of his duties.

Miss Baxendale, who graduated from the University of British Columbia, was released from her employment in German translation with the Directorate of Censorship at the request of the school board. She has had elementary, junior and senior High School experience in Vancouver. Miss Marjorie Griffin, B.A., newly appointed librarian, is a University of British Columbia graduate. She specialized in English and German, and has the provincial certificate as a library specialist. At present teaching in Oak Bay, Miss Griffin has acted as school librarian at Kimberly, and as library assistant at the Vancouver Public Library.

Gear Industry to Needs, Says C.C.F. Candidate

The C.C.F. party is pledged to gear industry to meet human needs, not greed, Dr. J. M. Thomas, C.C.F. candidate in the Nanaimo riding, told a meeting at Marigold Hall Thursday night. The old economic order has produced depressions, unemployment and ultimately wars, he said, adding that the C.C.F. offers a program built on changes in the present economic structure.

Tonight at 8 Dr. Thomas will speak in the Tolmie C.C.F. Hall. Later he will give an address at Lake Hill Hall.

Teen Canteen Council

The Teen Canteen Council of Victoria will hold its annual meeting at the Y.W.C.A. Tuesday at 8.15. Mrs. H. Simpson, secretary of the council announces. Purpose of the meeting will be to arrange outdoor activities.

Teen Canteen is a co-operative community venture for young people from 13 to 18, sponsored by the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A. and Parent-Teacher Council.

Many Attend Rites For G. H. Harman

Friends and business associates filled Christ Church Cathedral for the funeral of George Hamilton Harman, manager of the Bank of Montreal, Thursday afternoon. Bishop Harold E. Sexton conducted the services during which the hymns "Unto the Hills" and "Abide With Me" were sung.

Pallbearers were J. V. Johnson, E. H. Wilson, G. N. Douglas, Maj. H. Cuthbert Holmes, R. W. Mayhew, M.P., and Capt. R. W. McMurray. Honorary pallbearers were H. G. S. Heisterman, Richard Palmer, Sir Henry Drayton and L. M. Johnstone. As the procession left the cathedral the bells sounded a muffled peal. Three carloads of flowers accompanied the cortege to Royal Oak, where cremation took place.

Vast Spending Scheme Planned, Says Bryce

The C.C.F. proposes a vast public investment scheme to construct industries, develop natural resources and build public works, F.O. Murray Bryce, C.C.F. candidate for Victoria, in the forthcoming federal election, told a meeting Thursday night at the home of Mrs. H. T. McCulloch, 1554 Pembroke Street.

While such a scheme may cost half as much per year as the war had cost, it would provide employment and maintain public purchasing power, he said. The C.C.F., he continued, would retain public ownership of the government-constructed war plants, converting them to civilian production.

No Jurisdiction

Judge H. H. Shandley dismissed the action of Gordon MacLeod vs. Herbert Carvath in County Court Thursday for want of jurisdiction.

MacLeod, a sailor, brought action against Carvath for $1,000 damages on account of alleged false statements and misrepresentations made by the defendant about the plaintiff and for canceling his tenancy of 502 Dallas Road.

Judge Shandley held that as the action was one for libel or slander he had no jurisdiction to hear it by virtue of Section 29 of the County Court Act.

W. A. Brethour appeared for the plaintiff, and Joseph McKenna represented the defendant.

He will address a meeting at the Royal Victoria Theatre on behalf of F.O. Murray Bryce, C.C.F. candidate for Victoria, and Dr. J. M. Thomas, C.C.F. candidate for Nanaimo, May 21.

Mr. Coldwell is scheduled to leave San Francisco, where he is attending the United Nations World Security Conference, on May 19 and fly to Vancouver to attend the C.C.F. forum at St. John's Church there.

Lions Club Sees Film Of South America

Pre-war trade routes of South America were shown in a National Film Board release entitled "The Bridge," exhibited by Arthur Cann at the Lions Club luncheon in Spencer's dining-room, Thursday.

Lack of adequate transportation which strangled industrial and agricultural growth was depicted and the film showed that while mining and oil developments were booming owing to the demand for products during the war, many agricultural items were going to waste.

By PETE SALLAWAY

BASEBALL, Victoria's major summer sport, will lift the curtain on a brand new season tomorrow afternoon at Athletic Park. Civic and service dignitaries will participate in the opening ceremonies and providing the weather man behaves himself the opening fixtures should attract big attendances. Three service nines will show during the day with the Army and Navy hooking up in the afternoon and the R.C.A.F. and Eagles providing the opposition in the evening. There is every reason to believe the teams will come up with some first class baseball during the summer and that the league will be pretty evenly balanced.

BIG WEAKNESS in all five teams will be in the pitching department. Every team seems to be experiencing the same problem. However, a lot of familiar faces will be back and before the season closes it is likely the clubs, especially the service nines, will trot out some nifty material. The championship Navy club will again strip such well-known performers as Ken van Hatten, Gil Bruce, Mickey Bartko, Ted Parkins, Dick Latiff and Al Duz. Out again with the Army will be such boys as Ray Casey, Harry Holmes, Eddie Cross and Bud Werstine. The V.M.D. will have practically all last year's regulars on deck with the addition of Toad Garnet, Charlie Shrougler, Gar Taylor and Chuck Restell. The shipbuilders have also got pitcher Tommy Musgrave back in the fold. The Flyers and Eagles are somewhat the unknown quantity although the former are reported to have some smart players ready for action. The lodgemen are certain to open the season with a crop of youngsters who will improve as the schedule advances. All in all it looks like another big season.

ANY HOPES civilian golfers might have entertained of restocking their supply of balls will be blasted higher than the proverbial kite following a recent announcement by a prominent manufacturer. In a bulletin to its dealers the company flatly refuses several news releases and a recent radio broadcast to the effect that a large number of synthetic balls would be made available to the public. The statement says in part: "From the information we have the largest quantity of synthetic balls that could be produced would be approximately 125,000 dozen during July, August and September, and the same amount in the last three months of the year. However, the important point is that if the industry does make these balls they are to be earmarked for the use of the members of the forces. If the quantity manufactured should be more than sufficient to take care of the services then the balls left over would be available for civilian use."

THERE IS ANOTHER point that we would like to make and it is that in our opinion no manufacturer of golf balls has thus far been able to produce a synthetic ball that rates in quality anywhere near the top grade prewar balls. We are constantly experimenting, so we are not prepared to make any public announcement as to the quality or even the offering for sale of synthetic golf balls. It is quite certain that there will be no new golf balls available for civilian consumption for quite a long time to come."

Jimmy Ward Praises Coast

Real Hockey Bonanza

By FRED KERNER

TORONTO (CP)—Jimmy Ward, former Montreal Maroon hockey star, has advice to give hockey players looking for green pastures. But unlike most advice, Ward's is only four words long: He quotes Horace Greeley's "go west, young man."

Jeans has just returned from a most successful season managing two clubs in the Pacific Coast loop and is extremely optimistic about the west coast organization. There's plenty of money beyond "them tar hills," the former puck star says, and backs his argument up with the fact that the first tickets sold there are the top-priced ones.

Though affiliated with the United States Amateur Hockey Association, Ward thinks that the loop will take the pro tag as soon as the war with the Japanese is over. Because none of the western youngsters have been taught the fundamentals of the game, Ward said, few local boys get spots on the teams.

By the way, that advice is not merely talk! Jimmy is moving out west permanently this fall, and that means giving up a good position in Montreal.

Take heed, young man, take heed.

THE RED BOOK

The National Hockey League's official year book—with scarlet covers—gives the reader an insight to the strength that the Montreal Canadiens have for postwar years—at least on paper. The new year book reached our desk a few days ago and a cursory glance shows the 1944 Stanley Cup winners and 1945 league champions with 35 players on their contingent reserve list as well as a regular roster of 28 men.

A "paper" analysis shows the Canucks on a player-by-player basis with Toronto Maple Leafs a close second.

Of five new records made during the past season, three went to the Montreal club: Richard's 50-goal mark, his eight points in one game; and Lach's 54-assist mark. Bill Cowley registered the greatest number of assists—345—for an all-time mark, and Syd Howe's 582 points also set an all-time mark.

NOVA VS. BARLUND

NEW YORK (AP)—Lou Nova, veteran California heavyweight, and Gunner Barlund, Finnish fighter of much experience, will clash in a 10-round main bout at the St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

Unbeaten Pavot Will Not Enter Kentucky Derby

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter M. Jeffords' unbeaten Pavot will not be a starter in the Kentucky Derby when the barrier is released for the $57,000 three-year-old turf classic at Churchill Downs, probably June 2 or 9.

"We announced last fall that he wouldn't be pointed for the Derby," said Jeffords, Thursday, as he and trainer Oscar White watched the son of Case Ace cool out after a brief workout at Belmont Park. "Even though the Derby will be run a month later than usual we are sticking by our decision. In fact, we didn't even enter him."

White said he could have had the 1944 two-year-old champion ready for the Derby had the colt not picked up a pin last month at his Berlin, Md., winter quarters.

"That set him back two weeks, so we decided not to rush matters and wait until he was fit for the Derby," White added. The Preakness is expected to be run at Pimlico the week after the Derby.

DISLIKES ROUTE

"After all, the Preakness is a sixteenth of a mile shorter," said Jeffords. "And it'll be easier to get him in shape, especially since we'll have a week longer."

Although Pavot won eight straight races in picking up $179,040 last year he never improved as a horse that would like the 1 1/4 miles of the Derby. His daddy was known chiefly as a sprinter a decade or so ago while racing for Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Milky Way Stable.

In the 6 1/2 furlongs of the Hopeful, Pavot had to go all out to hold off the stretch bid of William Ziegler's Esteem, a colt that figures to bid strongly for Derby honors. The Jeffords' runner was the Belmont Futurity winner, at the same distance, by two lengths but Alexis, from the Christiana Stables, was making up ground rapidly at the finish.

Two Tennis Stars Cleared of Charges

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Talbert and Francisco (Pancho) Segura, ranked No. 2 and 3, respectively, have been cleared by the United States Lawn Tennis Association of charges they were paid excessive expense moneys. President Holcombe Ward said Thursday.

Ward said the charges were made by Edward Stillman, editor of the Professional Tennis Magazine, who later apologized to the U.S.L.T.A. and the two players individually.

Maryland Racing Will Open May 16

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland Racing Commission Thursday approved an 11-day joint spring meeting to be conducted at Pimlico by Maryland's four major tracks, beginning next Wednesday.

There will be a 10-day stand from May 16 through May 26, and the commission also approved an 11th day either June 9 or June 16 for the running of the Preakness—one week following the Kentucky Derby, the date of which has not been determined. On the day of the $50,000-added Preakness three other big stakes also will be run, the $30,000-added Dixie Handicap, the $15,000-added Pimlico Oaks, and the $7,500 Pimlico Nursery.

Novel Sports Card At Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A sports fan's dream—or nightmare—is scheduled for Shibe Park June 11.

The Philadelphia sports committee for war bonds, the sponsors, call it "Sports-go-bang."

A rough outline of the program as disclosed by committee chairman Bill Driscoll, sports editor of the Philadelphia Record, includes simultaneous:

Playing of 10 different games, featuring women's lacrosse and hockey teams, two professional basketball quintettes on a movable court, tennis matches, plus cricket and soccer tilts.

Staging of four boxing bouts, two wrestling matches and a tug-of-war.

Exhibitions of gymnastics, rope climbers and a William Tell feat with a pretty model holding the apple.

Just to make sure there is no lull in the program, the committee is working on plans to have a parachute drop smack-dab into the park in the middle of the festivities.

The windup will bring together the Philadelphia Athletics and the Phillies in a city championship baseball game.

It is all in the interests of the seventh War Loan drive with admission by war bonds only.

Women's Tourney Opens at Gorge

Qualifying round in the women's championship will be played Sunday at the Gorge Vale Golf Club.

LIFT SUSPENSION

LOS ANGELES (AP)—President Clarence Rowland of the Pacific Coast Baseball League announced Thursday that Oakland right fielder Frankie Hawkins' indefinite suspension would be lifted, as of today, upon payment of his $100 fine.

Hawkins was penalized Sunday for alleged abusive language and rough tactics toward umpire Gordon Ford following a decision by the latter at third base in the previous day's game with Seattle at Oakland.

Baseball Clubs Usher In Season Tomorrow

Baseball will hit the local sports picture tomorrow at Athletic Park when four of the five clubs in the city league make their debut.

In the afternoon clash, scheduled to get away at 2:30, the Navy, last year's champions, will tackle the Army, while at 6:15 the R.C.A.F. from Pat Bay will engage the Eagles. Victoria Machinery Depot, fifth club and last season's league titleholders, will make their first appearance in a twilight game Monday.

Official opening ceremonies will get started at the park in the afternoon at 2. Mayor Percy George is slated to hurl the first ball with ranking navy and army officers providing the catcher and batter. Royal Canadian Navy and Esquimalt Garrison bands will be in attendance to provide additional color for the initial clash.

Navy-Army game will be a renewal of last year's hectic city final that saw the sailors finish on top after running out the string in their seven-game series. A pitcher new to local fans will go to the mound for the Navy with the selection to come from a staff of four including Johnson, King, Carpenter and McCarthy.

George Boston, veteran south-paw who pitched a lot of baseball for senior clubs in Vancouver, is expected to handle the pitching chores for the Army. Other hurlers with the "soldiers" include Norm Martin, who has switched his allegiance from the fastball code, and Rosedale another south-paw from Vancouver. Mickey Bartko will be back of the plate club. Albert Ellis, a promising youngster, is scheduled to hurl for the Eagles, while a newcomer to local baseball will work for the airmen.

College Leads In High Ball League

Chalking up their second straight victory at the expense of Victoria High 5 to 4, St. Louis College move into undisputed possession of first place in the Inter-High School Baseball League.

On the short end of a 4 to 2 score in the last of the sixth, the Collegians pushed over the winning runs when Len French tripled with two men aboard and later scored.

Victoria grabbed a 3 to 0 lead in the top half of the sixth, when Fred French ran into a streak of wildness. The College got one run back in their half of the inning and added another single in the second. Victoria came back with one run in the third and that ended the scoring until the winning rally in the sixth.

Anderson started on the mound for the Victoria team, being replaced by Turcotte in the sixth. Short score follows:

Victoria High	4	7	3
St. Louis College	5	5	3
Batteries—Anderson, Turcotte (6) and Savory; F. French and L. French.

out line-ups vastly changed over last season. Little is known about the respective strength of either club. Albert Ellis, a promising youngster, is scheduled to hurl for the Eagles, while a newcomer to local baseball will work for the airmen.

Progressive Gov't. Could Assure Jobs For All, Says Buck

Canada can provide jobs for everybody, maintain the national income and continue the present high level of industrial output if on June 11 a progressive government is elected, Tim Buck, national leader of the Labor Progressive Party, told a party rally at the Royal Victoria Theatre Tuesday night.

Introduced by George Greenwell, Labor Progressive candidate in the Nanaimo riding, Mr. Buck was followed by Garry Culhane, Labor Progressive candidate in the Victoria riding.

Neither a Liberal or a Progressive Conservative government would be willing to accept the responsibility necessary for full employment, a question which now was in the minds of all Canadians, Mr. Buck said. Neither would a coalition of these two parties, he predicted, be willing to take the necessary steps to assure jobs for all.

The attitude that it would be good to return to the prewar conditions with unemployment prevailed in the Conservative Party, Mr. Buck said. If the King government were returned with a full majority, Canadians would get no pledge to maintain full employment.

The C.C.F., he said, took issue with him on the employment question, holding out that it was impossible to maintain employment under the profit system.

"To make such a statement today is to express the economics of Rip Van Winkle," said Mr. Buck, adding that there were never five years in Canadian history when big business made profits as during the last five years, and that for the first time in history Canadians had been sent to jail for failing to go to work.

During those years, he said, while half of everything produced was going to war, and while big business was making big profits, Canadians were better off than they had ever been before.

It was horrible that there had to be a war which claimed the lives of 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 men, to bring full employment. But, he continued, if the government of Canada could organize with everybody employed in wartime, then it was time Canadians elected a government that could organize the country for full employment.

He said war which had created these problems of living had at the same time created a means of solving these problems. With seven parties represented in the forthcoming federal general election, he saw a breakdown of party meanings and a sense of uncertainty among the people which was almost certain to produce a coalition government.

"If we want a government to maintain full employment," he said, "then labor must be on that government."

The strength of organized labor was such, he said, that it could, before collaborating with old-line parties in a coalition, demand pledges of those parties to secure full employment.

To secure full employment, he said, the Dominion government must pledge itself to maintain the national income, keep up the flow of investment capital and assure Canada's export trade. These, he said, could be maintained by the same system of wartime financing that Canada had used during the past five years.

Mr. Culhane charged eastern Canada had attempted to preserve B.C.'s position as a reserve of raw materials for the rest of Canada. He said the industrial development that had taken place in this province during the war years must continue.

He said Vancouver Island must secure more industries, and the port facilities of Victoria must be developed to handle the output and needs of those industries.

Local Hospitals Praised By Mayor

Appreciation for the fine work done by Victoria hospitals was expressed by Mayor Percy George on behalf of the citizens on the eve of National Hospital Day, May 12.

He had special praise for the great contribution made by the hospitals to the war effort by their services both in the home and fighting fronts, and pointed out "we should all recognize the part being played by our hospitals in the building of a healthier and happier way of life."

The development and expansion of hospital facilities to meet increasing needs is specially important, Mayor George stressed, as he commended local hospital authorities for the work they are doing to extend hospital care for all classes, and to maintain a service covering the whole community.

U.B.C. Congregation Proves Victoria's Day

VANCOUVER (Special) — It was a real Victoria Day at the 30th congregation for the conferring of degrees at the University of British Columbia here yesterday afternoon.
 Not only did Victoria students gather the main honors but Premier John Hart of Victoria, in his inspiring and practical congratulatory address, pointed to the opportunities which await graduates in this province and received an ovation.
 Victoria was also honored for its contribution in the field of art when President Norman MacKenzie announced that the honorary degree of LL.D. had been conferred on the late Miss Emily Carr, who, by her writings and paintings, had become a leading figure in Canada.
 The highlight of the congregation was the presentation to Charlie Maunsell of Victoria of the Governor-General's Medal. The event was all the more memorable because for the first time the Governor-General personally made the presentation. The many Victorians who attended the congregation, thrilled when they watched the Earl of Athlone hand the medal to the brilliant Victoria student. The applause given Charlie by the 1,200 persons who sat in the gymnasium, where the ceremony took place, lasted for over a minute.

PROUD PRINCIPALS
 Harry L. Smith, principal of Victoria High School, who, with Mrs. Smith, was there to see his daughter, Barbara, graduate, was particularly pleased over Charlie's honor. He recalled that Charlie had been a member of one of the finest junior matriculation classes Victoria High School has turned out.
 Dr. J. M. Ewing, principal of Victoria College, was proud of the many tributes paid to his institution.
 "When I attended the Senate meeting Wednesday I was thrilled as I heard them read out honors for so many of our former students," Dr. Ewing said. "Of course, I can't take any credit for their standing, but our institution can." Dr. Ewing was referring to the fact that he has just finished his first year at Victoria College, having succeeded the late Prof. Percy Elliott.

In view of the impression which Victoria College has made at the University of B.C. this year, it would seem a good moment for the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to redouble its efforts to obtain a special grant from the provincial government for Victoria College. The Chamber of Commerce directors have drafted a program, in co-operation with the Victoria School Board, for expansion of the facilities at Victoria College. It has always been admitted that the college stands in spite of many handicaps was equal to that U.B.C., but never was the reputation of the college at a higher point than it is today.
OTHER HONOR STUDENTS
 In addition to Charlie Maunsell other Victoria College graduates who added to the lustre of that institution yesterday were: Geo. C. Best, who won the B.C. Electric Railway Co. research scholarship and the convocation prize for general proficiency in fifth year applied science; Lyall G. Denby, who headed the graduating class in agriculture and won the Wilfred Memorial Gold medal; Netta Jones, who won the United Empire Loyalists Association's medal and prize in history; James Hatter, who won the B'nai B'rith District No. 4 Hillier Foundation scholarship, and the Dorothy and William Dorblis' prize in zoology. Victorians were pleased at the reception given their senior member in the Legislature, Premier Hart. It was only to be expected that when he was introduced to the audience, particularly the graduating class, would applaud loudly as they recalled how generous he had been with their institution, in providing in the last budget $5,000,000 for needed additions at Point Grey.

His address, however, had been so well prepared and contained so many answers to the questions uppermost in the minds of young people today that he was given just as sincere a demonstration when he concluded. He referred to his government's new electrical power commission and drew a picture of the industrial possibilities, of new developments, which would mean new communities and more opportunities. He told them the government was ready to assist in this development but he frankly reminded them that "the future will be what you make it."
 There were two moments during the congregation, which, however, were not Victoria's. One was when Edward Brown, a blind boy, mounted the platform and received his B.A. degree, and the other when Richard Cline, D.F.C., the first returned man of this war to graduate, was welcomed by Chancellor Eric Hamber with the words "I admit you." The accomplishment of both Brown and Cline was sincerely admired.

VICTORIANS WHO ATTENDED
 Among the Victorians who attended the congregation and watched their children graduate were Mr. and Mrs. D. P. W. Maunsell, both of whom had hand-shaker's cramps at the end of the afternoon; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Clarke, whose son, William, graduated in chemical engineering; Alderman and Mrs. Fred A. Willis, whose son, Norman, graduated with honors in mechanical engineering; Mrs. J. L. Watson, whose daughter, Carol, graduated with her B.A.; Mr. and Mrs. G. Masters, whose son, Raey, graduated in agriculture; Lt-Col. and Mrs. G. G. Aiken, whose daughter, Eve, graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Commerce; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Willis, whose daughter, Eileen, graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Commerce; Kenneth McCarter, whose son, William, graduated as a Bachelor of Commerce; Mr. and Mrs. H. O. English, whose son, Ted, graduated with his B.A. and second class honors in economics; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Whittemore, whose son, Tom, received his B.A. and Mrs. William Sloan, whose daughter, Barbara, received her B.A.
 Other Victorians in attendance included Hon. H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education, and Mrs. Perry. Dr. S. J. Willis, deputy minister of education, and Mrs. Willis; W. T. Straith, K.C., M.L.A.; Joseph B. Clearihue, K.C., member of the Board of Governors of the University of B.C.; Miss Mary Straith and Miss Dorothy Willis.

To make the day all the more Victorian on the mainland the news was passed to the Victoria party as it prepared to return home that another Victoria boy, Byron "Boss" Johnson, had captured the seat of New Westminster in the B.C. Legislature in yesterday's by-election.
 The postponed meeting of the B.C. Historical Society will be held at 8.30 this evening at the Provincial Library.
Knights and Dames of the Thistle will attend the evening thanksgiving services for victory at Gorge Presbyterian Church.
Veterans of France held a successful smoking concert in the clubrooms on Thursday evening. Contributing to the program were W. Raven, Joe Dobbie, Mickey Francis, Frank Michellin, Roy Hunt, Fred McDonagh, Reg. Stofor, Bert White, Ernie Crookford, and community singing with Cecil Heaton at the piano.
 At the joint meeting of the Rotary-Kiwanis clubs of Victoria Thursday at the Empress, Colin Martin, acting chairman, called a minute's silence in memory of the late G. Hamilton Harman, a Victorian. Mr. Martin spoke briefly of Mr. Harman's contributions to community enterprise. "He gave unstintingly of his services," he said.

Big Majority For Johnson In New Westminster

BYRON I. JOHNSON

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—The provincial by-election here Thursday resulted in an overwhelming majority for Byron I. (Boss) Johnson, Coalition. The unofficial figures for the 44 polls were: Johnson 3,538, Robert Cormack, C.C.F., 1,669; Jack Greenall, Labor Progressive, 989; Edward C. Mills, who ran on a combined Veterans' and Labor ticket, 135.

Mr. Johnson's election was conceded a little more than an hour after the polls had closed at 8 p.m.

Mr. Johnson, a native of Victoria, sat as Liberal member of the Legislature for Victoria from 1933 to 1937.

Premier John Hart, when asked for comment on the by-election, said the overwhelming majority accorded Mr. Johnson "is both a tribute and endorsement of the policies of the Coalition government."

"The decision of the electorate in this by-election gives the Coalition government great encouragement to carry on with those policies laid down by us and destined for the welfare of the people."

The by-election was held to fill the seat left vacant by the death last year of Hon. A. Wells Gray, former Minister of Lands.

Election of Mr. Johnson brings the party standing in the House now to: Liberals, 19; Progressive Conservative, 11; C.C.F., 16; Labor, 1; Coalition, 1. Total, 48.

The Coalition government is made up of Liberal and Progressive Conservatives, with the C.C.F., the official Opposition.

Halsey Predicts Jap Peace Feeler

SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC (AP)—Predicting the Japanese will put out a strong peace feeler in the near future, Admiral William T. Halsey said Thursday: "It would be criminal not to fight this war through to a successful conclusion."
 In a speech before Army, Navy and Marine chaplains of the Pacific Ocean area, the admiral said: "There will be pressure brought to bear to accept this peace from parents at home who want to save the lives of their sons and other loved ones, but we must think also of our grandchildren as well as of our children."
 "It would be criminal not to fight this war through to a successful conclusion that will leave the Japanese nation too weak to wage another war."

Veterans Get Chance At Former Jap Lands

VANCOUVER (CP)—All lands taken from Japanese are being held by the federal government until the great bulk of Canadian servicemen return from overseas. Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans' Affairs, had notified Tom Reid, Liberal M.P. for New Westminster.
 "This," the minister wrote, "has been done to prevent the lands all being bought up before the men who have seen service overseas have had a chance to acquire some of these properties."
 "Most of these properties are leased, and according to present arrangements, those holding the leases will be given notice to vacate within a reasonable time. It is expected that all leases will terminate by the end of the year."

Milanese Socialists Warn Prince Umberto

ROME (AP)—Prince Umberto of Italy has been warned by a Socialist member of the Committee of National Liberation that he may be executed if he returns to Milan.
 Addressing a Socialist mass meeting, Sandro Pertini declared: "Let all men responsible for our ruin know that there is a Piazza Loreto in Milan."
 Piazza Loreto is where the bodies of Benito Mussolini and other Fascists were displayed.

'Hotel Berlin' At Dominion Theatre

Revealing startling secret plans of the German general staff for eventual conquest of the world in some future war, Warner's "Hotel Berlin" opens today at the Dominion Theatre with a West Coast hearing by Faye Emerson, Raymond Massey, Andrea King, Peter Lorre and Helmut Dantine. "Hotel Berlin" is the amazing story of German treachery and deadly intrigue laid against the glittering backdrop of a cosmopolitan hotel. It is the thunder-packed drama that has been hidden behind the Westwall for more than five years of total war, brought to the public at last as a compelling and provocative motion picture.

Produced by Louis Edelman and directed by Peter Godfrey, "Hotel Berlin" was adapted for the screen from the pages of Vicki Baum's best-selling novel by the same name. The film was photographed by Carl Guthrie, A.S.C., and scripted by Jo Pagano and Alvah Bessie.

Wallace Beery In 'This Man's Navy'

Wallace Beery's bird-nest hair comb has become practically a trademark for the veteran star, but during the filming of M.C.M. "This Man's Navy," which opens today at the Atlas Theatre, not a strand was out of place.

Beery portrays a chief petty officer in the film story of the Navy's lighter-than-air service. Such officers are the backbone of the Navy and are held up as examples to the men. Beery, who is a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve, himself suggested that for once his air be neatly combed in every scene. Director William A. Wellman agreed.

The York is playing another of its brilliant double bills. The bill is headed by another spiky, fantastically funny English comedy entitled "The Farmer Goes to Town," with English favorites, comedians Bert Bailey, Fred MacDonald and Shirley Ann Richards. The fun starts immediately the picture opens. The farmer turns from dressing good livestock to good women when he inherits a dress shop. Critics say it's funnier by far than other hit, "Sez O'Reilly to McNab."

The co-feature is "Little Old New York," which is a spectacular romance featuring Victoria's brilliant Richard Greene, Olive Faye, Fred MacMurray and Henry Stephenson. It's real lusty entertainment of the best type. Altogether York patrons have first rate shows here as always.

CADET THEATRE
The razzle-dazzle era of vaudeville, musical comedy and Tin Pan Alley just prior to the First World War is the exciting setting for Damon Runyon's "Irish Eyes Are Smiling," the new 20th Century-Fox technicolor musical comedy, starring Monty Woolley, June Hayes and Dick Haymes, now at the Cadet Theatre.

The riotous film tells of the romance of two hot-headed Irish sweethearts, and the flaming melodies that have always topped the nation's hit parade.

CAPITOL THEATRE
Walter Brennan almost collapsed on the "To Have and Have Not" set when his sailor son, Walter Jr., walked into the Warner Bros. sound stage and greeted him. When the actor last heard from young Brennan, he was in the South Pacific. His telegram, announcing that he was coming home on furlough, never was delivered. The film "To Have and Have Not" is now at the Capitol Theatre.

Class Leader
Loyal Gordon Denby, brilliant Victoria student, who took top honors at the University of B.C. He won the Wilfrid Sadler memorial gold medal as head of the graduating class for the B.S.A. degree, which he received with first class honors. He climaxed a fine scholastic career at university, last year winning the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association golden jubilee scholarship. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Denby, 3552 Quadra Street.

Hungry Channel Island People Embrace Arriving British Troops

By DOUGLAS WILLIS
Distributed by The Canadian Press
LONDON - I have just returned from Guernsey in the Channel Islands, and am still dazed and almost worn out from the overwhelming welcome which these British people gave us when we came ashore at 8 a.m. from the destroyer Bulldog at St. Peter Port.

There are 43,000 persons on the island, and from before daybreak they had been making their way from every part of the island. Twenty-two men, led by a single officer, the tiny force which took over Guernsey from 7,000 German navy, army and air force troops who had been garrisoning the island.

An hour before we landed a German major-general, Heine, had signed unconditional surrender.

Flags everywhere
The day before the German commander had given permission for British flags to be flown, and now every street, every house, every building, every crane on the docksides wharves was covered with flags and streamers. Thousands of cheering, laughing people - people standing speechless with tears running down their cheeks - surrounding our little force, tearing at our clothes, embracing us, pumping our hands, they couldn't say much, only: "We've waited so long for this. We're so glad you've come."

I saw today what German victory would have meant to Britain if they had won this war. The Germans smashed the once-prosperous economy of the island. They debased the currency so that German soldiers were offering 200 marks for an English pound note. Until Thursday a single cigarette cost more than a pound sterling - 10 marks. They have been drying blackberry leaves for pipe tobacco, or to use as tea. Cigarettes made of locally-grown tobacco cost £2 8s. (about $11) a packet. Butter, bought on the black market, which flourished under German rule, cost £3 a pound.

Until the Red Cross began to land supplies - one parcel each month for each resident - a quarter of the population was starving. Many are short of food now. A mother, a well-dressed woman, told me that for months during the war she could provide nothing more for her child and herself than boiled cabbage for their main meal of the day.

Often there was no bread. There were no potatoes. The famous glass houses which once produced hundreds of tons of tomatoes for export were switched by the Germans to grow potatoes, but the German garrisons took the lot.

ATE CATS, DOGS
There isn't a single dog or cat on the island. They have all been eaten.

In Police Court

Earl R. Sleen was committed for trial by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today on a charge of receiving a gasoline coupon book stolen from Scott and Peden Ltd.

A juvenile testified he and a friend had gone with a gasoline coupon book to a man whom he identified as Sleen with the intention of selling it. He stood waiting while his friend approached Sleen, he said, but he did not see any actual transaction, though, after leaving Sleen, his friend gave him $12.

A second juvenile testified he had given the first witness a gasoline coupon book to sell. The book was one of 21 stolen from Scott and Peden, he said. Detective Angus Munro said he had investigated the Scott and Peden theft and three days later picked up a number of juveniles, and a week later had arrested Sleen, who, the detective said, was a taxi-cab driver.

H. W. Herridge, Facing Expulsion, Will Contest Dominion Election

Provincial executive committee of the C.C.F. Saturday, will probably expel H. W. Herridge, C.C.F. member of the B.C. Legislature for Rossland-Trail, who announced today he will resign his provincial seat—thus precipitating provincial by-election—to contest the Kootenay West federal riding, June 11, on the nomination of a local C.C.F. convention.

After receiving a wire last week from A. T. Alsbury, provincial president of the C.C.F., informing him that he had been suspended from membership of the C.C.F., and was required to show cause why he should not be expelled from the party, Mr. Herridge today wired Mr. Alsbury the following reasons:

"1. As a consistent supporter of the Co-operative Commonwealth philosophy I am a Democrat.

"2. As such my first consideration must be to the people who have the right under the Canadian constitution to select their candidate.

"3. In keeping with that right they have asked me to be a candidate, and I have accepted."

Mr. Alsbury had asked Mr. Herridge to attend the provincial executive committee meeting Saturday in Vancouver, at which Mr. Herridge's position will be discussed. Mr. Herridge announced today he would not attend the meeting.

ACCEPTED NOMINATION

Grounds for the suspension and pending expulsion of Mr. Herridge were given by Mr. Alsbury as "that you consented to federal nomination contrary to constitutional requirements and a decision of the provincial convention."

The developments today climax a series of brushes between Mr. Herridge and the C.C.F. provincial executive committee since Aug. 19, 1944, when Mr. Herridge was first nominated to contest the Kootenay West federal riding in the forthcoming federal election. The provincial executive committee subsequently ruled the nomination out of order.

At a meeting at Nelson Dec. 9, Mr. Herridge announced he would be willing to withdraw if the C.C.F. presented another candidate. A minority of the meeting voted to release Mr. Herridge.

2 C.C.F. CANDIDATES

This action was protested by local C.C.F. clubs and members. Meeting last Saturday, Mr. Herridge was by majority of the convention again named candidate. The chairman, W. W. Le-feaux, Vancouver M.L.A., ruled this out of order, and was overruled by majority vote of the delegates. The negative-voting delegates then named another candidate, whose nomination was approved by the provincial executive.

Mr. Herridge announced here today he would place his resignation from the B.C. Legislature in the hands of Speaker Norman Whitaker before the federal nomination day next Monday.

Thus the Coalition government faces a fourth by-election since its election in 1941. With its victory Thursday at New Westminster, where the electors overwhelmingly named Byron I. "Boss" Johnson, formerly Victoria Liberal M.L.A., the coalition's by-election score stands at 1 to 2. In by-elections earlier at Salmon Arm and Revelstoke, the Coalition government bowed to the C.C.F.

BURROWING OWLS HAVE STRANGE HABIT OF BOWING WHEN PEOPLE APPROACH

Birds make their homes in many places. They use trees and bushes most often, but some of them lay eggs on the ground. There also are certain birds which have "gone underground."

I am thinking of the burrowing owls of which we spoke yesterday. They often use ready-made holes, but in some cases they dig their own holes.

Burrowing owls live where there are few, if any, trees. That may explain their custom of living under the ground. British Columbia has burrowing owls and so do the provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

In the United States they live, for the most part, west of the Mississippi, from Minnesota to California. Southern Florida has some of them, however, a special kind known as "the Florida burrowing owl."

The female burrowing owl lays from five to seven pure white eggs in her burrow. Usually these are placed from five to 10 feet from the entrance of the burrow.

Burrowing owls feed largely on lizards, snakes and grasshoppers. They are hungry birds, and sometimes eat their own weight in a single day.

Burrowing owls are among the few owls which fly about and hunt during the daytime. It seems that they can see in the sunshine almost as well as other birds. One of their strange habits is to bow when a human being comes close. This surely is not done for the sake of politeness. More likely these little owls want to look over the visitor, from head to toe.

The same bowing habit is found among the burrowing owls of South America. They bob their heads and utter little screams when they see a man. If he walks too close to one of them, it will fly to a distance of about 20 yards, then will face about and bow and scream again.

The burrowing owls of South America live chiefly on the pampas of Argentina and Paraguay. There they sometimes make their homes in holes left by the animals called "viscachas."

The viscachas are burrowing animals very much like the prairie dogs of our continent. They live in villages which may have from 15 to 50 members. Their food is made up almost entirely of grass, seeds and roots, and the burrowing owls show no fear of them.

B.C. Modernizes Quarantine Rules

Modernization of health regulations dealing with isolation and quarantine of British Columbians with communicable diseases were effected today by order-in-council, Provincial Secretary G. S. Pearson announced.

The health board explained the new regulations, amending the regulations last revised in 1917, wipe out quarantine periods for minor diseases such as chicken-pox, mumps and German measles, but maintains the quarantine for ordinary measles which are more serious.

Isolation and quarantine periods for several diseases are slightly changed by the new orders which also specify that houses be placarded only for the more serious diseases of diphtheria, scarlet fever and small-pox. Placards now will not specifically name the disease but will give the general warning "communicable disease."

16 Arrested Poles Were Underground Chiefs, Says Eden

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Eden said today the 16 Polish leaders arrested by Russia included "nearly all the leading figures of the Polish underground movement."

Many of those arrested, he said, were persons the British thought should be included in a new democratic Warsaw government.

Speaking to a packed news conference, Eden also reviewed the work of the United Nations toward creating a world security organization and predicted that the problem of fitting in regional arrangements would be worked out, although "I don't yet see a solution."

He said that the solution should be built upon the principle that "regional pacts are extremely valuable in strengthening a world organization, but regional pacts can not replace it."

P.O.W.'s Released

Two more island servicemen have been released from prison camps in Germany and are now in England. They are: L. Cpl. W. A. Clements, and WO. Fred Cook, R.C.A.F.

L. Cpl. Clements, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Clements, Chemainus, had been a prisoner since the Dieppe raid of August, 1942. His wife and young son live at North Galiano. Reported missing in January, 1944, and later a prisoner of war, Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Cook, Duncan, graduated as a bombardier in early 1943 and went overseas in April of that year.
